Podcasts 3 Wine Guys

The guys release a new varietal based podcast every other week. Each podcast covers three to five different wines of the same varietal. They try to review wines that are readily available at most wine retailers. You'll get some interesting background on both the varietal and the winemakers. The guys take their time tasting, DRINKING and enjoying the wine. The podcasts are recorded as they drink the wine so as the saying goes "Sometimes we slip...when we sip" - language warning.
